Martha Jane Carey, general elementary; Clara Lillian Colley, home economics; Arline Lilly Cox, music; Shirley Catherine Cuneo, general elementary.

Dorothy Dean Decker, kindergarten-primary; Charlene Winn Diehl, education; Ely Dragoin, speech; Edward Otto Fischer, physical education secondary; LaVerne DeSmet Fuller, general elementary.

Alfred Jack Gutfield, commerce; Gladys Lucile Hubbard, general elementary; Josephine M. Kind, occupational therapy; William Melton, speech; Louise Scaglione, history.

Majel L. Swezey, art; Yvonne Helene Taylor, general elementary; Guy McCandless Worden, education.

Those who qualify for post graduate credentials are: Mildred M. Crow, homemaking secondary; Elizabeth Jane Gilliam, general elementary; Hellen Hildreth Tourtillot, homemaking secondary; Carolyn Allen Wiley, general elementary.

NOEL COWARD'S 'HAY FEVER' HAS ECCENTRIC CAST

Are you an innocuous person, or are you obnoxious by nature? Do you exude the impression of good health and brawn? Would you like to capitalize on a heretofore poorly disguised neuroticism? Are you an artist, do you scribble off poetic masterpieces? "Hay Fever," Noel Coward's comedy about a delightfully eccentric collection of misfits struggling together through a weekend house party, is just your place. Find your niche in college life by taking part in the last dramatic production this year, the comedy to be produced May 8, 9, and 10. Tryouts will be held April 4 in the Little Theater from 4 until 6 o'clock.

Dr. Hugh Gillis, Speech department head, will direct the cast in what he sincerely feels is one of Noel Coward's best comedies.

"Mr. Coward writes plays largely of a conversational type," Dr. Gillis stated. "Hay Fever" combines a varied action and clever conversation to make an exceptional comedy. The characters are funny, the lines are funny, it's a good play."

Judith Bliss, a retired actress, is the leading character in the play. Although she has already given three farewell tours, she is still planning her fourth. She never did realize the fact that she is the mother of two grown children and they always surprise her, just when she is feeling her youngest and most charming self. The line between the theatrical and the real is completely unknown to her and she continually lapses into dramatic speeches lifted from her stage successes.

SJS COUNCIL APPOINTMENTS

LT. COL. ROBISON TO SPEAK TO MEN TODAY ON ASTRP

Lieutenant Colonel J. Shelburn Robison, now stationed at the University of Santa Clara, will be on campus this afternoon at 3 p. m. in room 107 to discuss the Army's Specialized Training Reserve program with young men who are interested, announces Joe West, registrar.

Information recently received by the registrar indicates that the Army Specialized Training Reserve program is to be re-opened after closing in September. New enrollments will be authorized for qualified candidates during the months of July, August, and September, 1945.

The test will be open to young men who were born after September 30, 1927, and before September 1, 1928. High school graduation is required but one quarter or a semester of college will be accepted in lieu of the requirement.

A qualifying test will be conducted April 12 for the selection of candidates for the ASTRP. According to the registrar, it is important to note that this test will be given on the one day only and not daily as previously announced.

Any young man in this age group who contemplates military service is urged to attend the meeting. There is no obligation involved.

Schick Test Opens Immunization Plan For Next Quarter

Starting with the Schick test to determine immunity to diphtheria, the Health office will offer a series of immunization shots and vaccines next quarter. Students who are interested in diphtheria, typhoid-paratyphoid shots, smallpox vaccination, or immunization against tetanus are asked to check the following events listed.

Schick test.....12 until 12:30

April 10

Smallpox vaccination.....12:30 - 1

April 10

Diphtheria shots — One-month intervals: April 20, May 18, June 15.

Typhoid-paratyphoid shots at one-week intervals: April 27, May 4, May 11.

Tetanus immunization at three-week intervals: May 1, May 22, June 12.

Students who were immunized for certain of these diseases last year are asked by Miss Margaret Twombly, Health department head, to come in and take re-immunizing doses, known to the medical profession as "booster" doses. Booster doses are given in the case of diphtheria, tetanus, and typhoid. Those students who underwent dosage for diphtheria immunization should take the one April 12 without being under any obligation to enlist in the program.

Gloria Teresi To Edit Daily; Phyllis Edwards Heads Social Affairs; Virginia Sherwood New Rally Chief

Gloria Teresi's appointment as editor of the Spartan Daily for spring quarter was approved during a special meeting of the council Monday. Miss Teresi, senior journalism major from Campbell, has held the position of associate editor throughout the present quarter. Previously she served as feature editor and reporter.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Phyllis Edwards, junior art major from San Jose, was appointed Social Affairs head for the coming quarter. Miss Edwards succeeds Elaine Chadbourne who served as chairman during this quarter.

Virginia Sherwood, sophomore liberal arts major from Palo Alto, will head the Rally committee during the spring. Miss Sherwood is the successor to Patty Moore who handled the position during the present quarter.

NEXT MEETING

After passing on the three appointments the council adjourned until registration day, April 2, when a meeting will be held at 4 p. m. in the Student Union.

Council members are Howard Riddle, Marge Howell, Pat Cavanaugh, Barbara Bressani, Barbara Retchless, Emerson Arends, Nancy Duncan, Betty Doyle, Pat Dunlavy, Hugh Johnston, Bruce Duke, and Laura Lee Zwissig. President Howard Riddle asks that students who are interested in student government attend the weekly meetings.

S.J.S. WOMEN GRADUATE AS NURSES AIDES

The first class of women from San Jose State college graduated as Nurses' Aides at a meeting held at Red Cross headquarters last night at 8 p. m.

Miss Bernice B. Tompkins, a faculty member here and chairman of the campus unit of the Red Cross addressed the group, stressing the possibilities and the importance of personal services at this time. Mrs. Maude Frost, Nurses' Aide chairman, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Seymour Kirtledge, chairman of volunteer special services also spoke.

The following women students graduated as Nurses' Aides: Phyllis Edwards, Marsha Blase, Doris Snell, Mary McCluen, Aloha Stokes, Ruth Miller, Gloria Warren, Margaret Ann Cunha, Frances Sumner, Jeanne Simas, Doris Morey, Marie Scheurer, and Shirley Rumbaugh.

SECRETARY RESIGNS

Elizabeth Marchisio has resigned as Business office secretary. Mrs. Marchisio started working here in the Registrar's office in July of 1931 and has been working in the Business office since October of 1943.

Mrs. Marchisio's husband is employed by the Bank of America.

SJSC PATRONS GIVE NEW $100 SCHOLARSHIP

A one hundred dollar scholarship was given to the English department of San Jose State college by the College Patrons' association at its meeting on March 8. Mrs. Mabel Turner, retiring president, presented the fund, which is to be awarded at the discretion of the English department.

Dr. Raymond Barry, head of the department, has appointed a committee consisting of Dr. Harold Miller, Mrs. Charlotte Rideout, and Dr. James Wood to draw up suggestions for a basis on which the award is to be made. The suggestions will be submitted to the Patrons' association and to President MacQuarrie for their consideration, and it is expected that the scholarship will be awarded as part of the Recognition assembly this spring.

New officers elected by the patrons include Mrs. Dana Thomas, president; Mrs. H. E. Duffy, first vice president; and Mrs. E. A. Uhl, recording secretary.

Special Easter USO Program

USO Open House will feature some special radio entertainers at the "Easter Parade" program on Sunday evening from 6:30 to 10:30 p. m. at the Student Union, according to the senior hostess, Mrs. Sarah Wilson, a member of the faculty of the Women's P. E. department here.

Refreshments will be served. Women will sign up as usual at the YWCA from noon Friday until noon Sunday.

'FIRST COME FIRST SERVED' IN SIGN-UP FOR SPARDI GRAS SAYS MILO BADGER

Milo Badger, chairman of Spardi Gras, warns organizations expecting to participate in the annual affair to arrive early for concession sign-ups Friday, April 6.

First come first served will be the rule of the day, and all groups planning concessions must sign up at this time. No late registrants will be accepted.

IDEAS

Badger stresses the fact that only the idea behind the concession and the approximate room needed must be presented at the sign-up. Booth space will be handled later.

Any organization, club, class, or social group can make application for a booth and concession.

It is automatically understood that Spartan Spears will take over the coke concession which was allotted previously to Spartan Knights. Other ideas will be open to all groups.

There will be no limitations enacted against ideas except for the fact that gambling, animals, and fowl are prohibited.

ORIGINALITY

Badger strongly urges more original ideas in connection with the carnival theme. Instead of using paper fronts alone, more ingenious plans should be considered.

He suggests that organizations and groups planning to sign up for concessions get together and make a list of three or four choices. Because of the sharp competition for concessions, groups are often unable to get their first and second choices.

$200 To Be Awarded Winners In 1945 Phelan Contest

This is the last reminder to all prospective Phelan contest entrants that the deadline for the annual literary competition is Tuesday, April 3 — the day following registration day.

The English department office (H-28) will be open Saturday, March 24, and Saturday, March 31, in case anyone wants to hand in his entries a little early and beat that inevitable last-minute rush.

"Term papers — written for any class — often make excellent material for entry in the Phelan contest," advises Mrs. Beatrice Henkel, secretary to the English department, who urges contributors to submit their entries as soon as possible, as the cover sheets with the authors' names must be removed and identification numbers attached before they can be judged. This is to insure fair and impartial decisions on the part of the judging committee, which will be made up of members of the English department faculty.

"Students need not be registered in English courses to be eligible to compete in the Phelan contest," states Mrs. Henkel, "but they must be under 25 years of age."

A total of $200 will be awarded in this year's Phelan competition. The money will be distributed as first, second, and third prizes in the seven divisions of the contest — sonnet, lyric, free verse, essay, short story, play, and radio play.

DAY EDITOR—THIS ISSUE—GLORIA TERESI

BEHIND THE SCENES

By MARGARET MOORE

End of quarter. Everything seems to be in its normal disjointed state. So we will be likewise and rattle off as usual without a fully defined subject. Instead we offer you a pot-pourri (had to call it something and this is a nice intriguing word), guaranteed by sheer evidence of mental derangement to take your mind off finals.

There are really a lot of nice things that you can notice around you at the end of a quarter, if you can brace up long enough to gander 'round. Take Mary Winters in her little Red Cross Nurses' Aide uniform. We saw her as she was collecting donations one night last week at the movies. If we were sick, we'd kinda like to see Mary's gravely sweet face bending over us. There are a lot of girls around school who are Nurses' Aides and others who lay in the hours at the sewing room. We can be proud.

Howard Melton received a nice gesture the other day. During his past quarter as a prof, he has gained fame as being one who teaches no snap of a course. Many's the time we've heard members of his acting classes muttering through clenched teeth about "that Melton guy," and "who does he think he is, anyway." But when it's all added up, the kids like their teacher. The other day his class presented him with a cake because he is leaving them next quarter. They'll miss him. He did fine work as director of the two successful productions this year, "Our Town" and "Craig's Wife."

Saludos Amigos! Get a load of that international spirit! (No, no, not tequila!) Never let it be said that we are narrow or constricted in locale or subject matter, just brain matter. Unlike Kay Eaby, we cannot boast a rural mind and remain an honest, reliable reporter. No mind.

Swishing back on the subject, please meet Jose DiHardo, our prospective Latin American correspondent. Winchell gets his scoops from secret sources, and aiming high, we have newly decided to get the inside news from Argentina. Jose is an Argentine student who inadvertently heard of San Jose State college. We plan to answer his letter and send him the copies of the Daily he requests. He collects college newspapers. We haven't decided quite how to break it to him that he's been elected our foreign correspondent and not break down 20 years of constructive work on the Good Neighbor policy. But it will come to us.

It's really amazing how many students slug it out over their books these last days before finals. Unnatural, aren't they? Sawing away at dogfishes in the Zo lab, spending whole Saturdays (the last two before finals) there, or in other labs, sitting it out in the libe or burning the midnight coffee; they're busy little bees. Some of us had better decide whether we're going to cut out, taking classes and just concentrate on

EDITOR'S COLUMN

It is with extreme regret that we set about preparing ourselves for the final rites of an outgoing editor . . . clearing out the quarter's accumulation of rubble from our desk, peeking into past editor's columns to see what they said, indulging in brief moments of nostalgia for the almost-days of yore . . . and, having worked ourselves up into the proper frenzy, sitting down to compose an editor's swan song to end all editors' swan songs.

As long as we are leaving, let's have a look at our successor, who has performed the duties of an assistant editor during the past quarter with all the earmarks of a full fledged editor. We now introduce you to Gloria Teresi, whom you have undoubtedly met in "Flotsam." Having a sense of humor is one of the most desirable attributes of human nature. That quality, in addition to other things that go into the makeup of a leader, points toward a fine Daily under her guidance next quarter.

Revolutionizing the feature page is no mean feat, and that is precisely what Feature Editor Kay Eaby has done. Aside from secretly plotting to put out a five-page paper, she has managed to instill new life into making up the Daily.

One new feature of this wartime Daily of which we are very proud has been the renewal of the sports page. For that you may thank Sports Editor Warren Brady, who has accomplished singlehanded that from which several experienced sports reporters might shrink. From Warren's typewriter has come nearly every inch of sports copy published during the entire quarter.

Service Editor Eleanor Frates has been responsible for keeping us in touch with Spartans in the service—one of the most welcome columns among our servicemen. Ed extra-curricular activities, do vice-versa, or effect a happy medium. The eve of the New Year is not the only time good resolutions are made. They really stick better in our minds after we've taken a bitter, resigned look at our grades.

We'd like to end on a cheerful vein, this being our last utterance this quarter, you lucky people, but all we can think of are those four finals not only staring but leering at us, straight in the face! Well, gallantly striving not to sink to the depths of Elsie Dinsmore or dear glad little Pollyanna, we can say that after all, everything passes (except us).

Marion has wielded a heavy pencil on incoming copy as the man behind the scenes who fights unceasingly to keep the Daily grammatical. His thinning hair may not be noticeable to you readers, but the staff has seen tufts of it scattered over the copy desk every day.

For an inexhaustible source of excellent features, we commend Maggie Moore, who has given her all for the Daily. Dave Webster has contributed two extremes to the feature page with his serious thought and his whimsical columns.

Our day editors, Virginia Wilcox, Virginia Sherwood, and the aforementioned Eaby, Marion, and Teresi, have ably held up their end of the work—seeing that the Daily went to press properly with a minimum of mistakes.

The editorial staff is the backbone of the paper. For sheer hard work and adequate coverage of their beats, Mary Davis, Cora Tate Peterson, Dale Bower, Harriet Rigg, Anne Carruthers, and Roland Mitchell deserve much credit for keeping us supplied with news.

No swan song of our would be complete without mentioning those who are not listed as staff members; but who are a distinct part of the Daily family: Mr. John Brokenshire, who has aided us constantly with his advice during the past quarter. "J. O.", who has loaned moral support. Jack the Printer, George the Printer, Gus the Printer, and Frankie the Printer, all of whom are indispensable members of the staff.

One thing that has impressed me during the past quarter has been the spirit which has held the Daily staff together, uniting it into a closely knit, hardworking unit. Although those outside the Pub office might entertain illusions concerning the seriousness of purpose of the Daily staff, I doubt very much whether they have seen it in action. Otherwise, I assure you, the Daily would not be daily.

Despite the fact that the majority of the staff members were not seasoned reporters, they are coming into their own as the new era of the Daily dawns. Excuse me, please—this is where I came in.

JUST AMONG OURSELVES

By Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie

S.B. 788 is one of those milestone bills. If it becomes a law, it will mark another important point in our long history.

This college was the very first educational institution of higher grade authorized by the State of California. While the constitution had established a system of public schools, the legislators soon realized that they had to have teachers also; so away back in 1862, when Lincoln was President and the Civil War was raging, they established a modest normal school which has since developed into this college.

But most of the students in the normal school were women, and the women had no votes in those days. So when the university came along some six years later, it had the votes and soon became the fair haired boy of the legislature.

Then the long struggle of the normal schools began. It was not until 1920 that they were authorized to grant the B.A. degree, and that only after a battle which will go down in legislative history. Our people were not strong enough to get everything they wanted, so when the four-year limitation was suggested, it was accepted temporarily until we could gather our strength. Now the time has come for us to go on. S.B. 788 is designed to remove the four-year limitation and leave it up to the

SPARTANS IN THE SERVICE

By ELEANOR FRATES

"Greetings from sunny (?) Italy," begins a letter from Joseph Wythe, former Spartan, thanking us for sending him the news around Washington Square. Wythe, now a tall gunner, writes in his letter, "It sure is great to hear what's going on about the campus. Sort of brings back old times. Those were happy days for me!"

"Last week I ran into an old buddy of mine, Dan Driver, a first lieutenant. Dan and I went to San Jose high. I was about two years ahead of him then, and I preceded him to SJS and from there up to U.C. in Berkeley. There we both studied architecture until Uncle called. Then Dan got the jump on me, for after leaving Lincoln, Nebraska, he preceded me to Texas where he was a couple classes ahead at San Antonio, Ellington Field, and the navigation school at San Marcos.

"Now he's a 'Mickey' Navigator and stationed at another B-24 base near here. (A 'Mickey' is a pathfinder ship for instrument bombing.) I hope Dan doesn't get out and try to walk back from Vienna. I'm in no mood to meet him up there.

"Me? I didn't get all the way through with navigation, so I'm tail gunner. Not so much glory, but not so much work either, which suits me okay.

"Dan and I being students of architecture are finding this kind of life a good experience. We have seen a good many of the USA cities worth seeing; then we jumped the pond and had a look at North Africa. Now that we are in Europe we are taking every advantage of our opportunities.

"The Teatro Royale in Rome and Teatro S. Carlo in Naples are giving daily performances of opera (mostly Verdi of course) for the Allies and citizens.

"The idea of a refresher course in certain subjects is a good one.

"My brother, Cpl. John Wythe, is now in the Hawaiian Islands."

Joe West, college registrar, received a V-Mail from Lt. Jerome Schwartz in England recently.

"Thanks for the Xmas card. I am sitting in a replacement depot, waiting for assignment. I'm still a bombardier-navigator on a B-26 Marauder. Sure would like to see some action so I could get back to the States. England is very pretty, but also very cold. I am feeling fine and I hope this letter finds you and the rest of my friends the same.

"I will attempt to visit San Jose when I return to the states. I haven't met any of the old gang, over here. Please give everyone my best regards. Perhaps we will be home before the year is up."

(Signed) Jerry.

Another interesting letter that recently found its way into the Publications office was written by John Chinnici, one time Spartan athlete in soccer, baseball, and boxing, now a 3/c in the Navy.

"I've thought of a hundred different things to write in this letter to you, but now that I am actually writing it, I find it hard to even think of something to say.

First, I would like to thank you for sending me the 'Spartan Daily'.

I've received it pretty regularly until the past three months, when it was impossible to receive any mail. I really have enjoyed the 'Daily' very much, reading the now small but important sports page, and the letters of some of the Spartans in the service.

"I have heard from Danny Conforti, who has seen quite a bit out here and is now his ship's barber. Believe me I feel sorry for the fellas who are getting their hair cut by him after what we went through at State when we raided the senior and junior party at Alum Rock park in 1942. We ended up with bald heads, but we did our share of the hair cutting also. I guess the students will well remember those days at the old Alma Mater.

"Now I guess you're wondering where I am and what I've been doing to help the war effort. I can't say much of what has happened out here or where we are, but I can say this, that we participated in the Luzon invasion.

"I am attached to the squadron aboard the jeep carrier USS Shamrock Bay. As a team we have worked well; in fact we have received a 'Well Done' from the admiral of our force. I know it will stay that way always, knowing that we must work together at all times as one team in order to win.

"We will soon be moving out again, only this time a little closer; so here's hoping it soon will be over and everyone will be home with their loved ones."

(Signed) A fighting Spartan,
J Chinnici.

Three Ways Listed To Obtain Grades

Students may obtain their grades in any of the following three ways:

1. Get envelope from the table in front of the Business office, room 34, address it and enclose 5 cents. Deposit the self-addressed envelope in the box on the table not later than today.

2. Bring self-addressed and stamped envelope and deposit it in the box on the table outside the Business office, room 34, not later than today.

3. Call for your grades at the Registrar's office Thursday, March 29, or thereafter.

STUDENT TEACHERS!

There will be a meeting of all general elementary and kindergarten-primary student teachers for the spring quarter today in the Little Theater at 12:00. ALL students must be there to receive assignments.

CCF MEMBERS TO ATTEND MT. HERMAN RETREAT

Collegiate Christian Fellowship members will retreat to Mount Herman during the coming spring vacation.

Of the approximately 25 members of the organization an as yet undetermined number will make the trip. Scheduled to leave on Thursday, March 29, the group will return from their mountain hide-away Sunday, April 1.

President Mildred Stainbrook, who has been student teaching this quarter, will return next quarter and resume her duties as president of Collegiate Christian Fellowship.

Vice-president Ruth Morris, who has been taking her place, Secretary June Cauvel, and Treasurer Lois Schmidt will all be student teaching next quarter. According to Membership Chairman Clara Bianchi, temporary substitutes for the officers will be chosen early in the coming quarter.

POST GRADUATES

Post-graduates qualifying this quarter for teaching credentials are asked by Miss Viola Palmer to call for them at the Registrar's office tomorrow.

Miss Palmer also requests that all seniors who have not yet applied for graduation do so this week or the first two weeks of the spring quarter.

NET PROFIT
$277¹⁸

1 Figures can be deceiving. In the financial news of this month, Union Oil's 1944 net profits were listed at $8,932,994. Now $8,932,994 is a lot of money. But what the figures fail to reveal is that this money was divided among a lot of people.

2 For Union Oil Company is owned not by one man, or two, but by 32,227 individual Americans. Divided among that many owners, the net profits averaged just $277.18 per stockholder. Even this sum was not all paid out in dividends. $4,266,724 of the net profits were plowed back into the business.

3 So dividends paid out averaged just $144.79 per stockholder. In contrast to this, wages and salaries averaged $3,298.77 per Union Oil employee for the year. Even government received more from the company's operation than the stockholders. $4,666,270 were paid out in dividends, $6,127,200 in taxes.

4 This is not pointed out as a complaint, but rather to show you that while Union Oil Company today consists of about 169 million dollars' worth of buildings, oil wells, refineries, ships, etc., it is owned by ordinary Americans like you and your neighbor next door.

5 These owners live in all parts of the country—516 in Oregon, 801 in Washington, 706 in Illinois, etc. 341 are in the military services. 2913 are Union Oil employees. The average stockholder owns 145 shares. Some hold fewer, some more; but the largest owns less than 1½% of the total shares outstanding.

6 So it is not the investments of a few millionaires, but the combined savings of thousands of average citizens, that make corporations like Union Oil Company possible. And without some such method of financing industry, American mass production, with free competition, could never have been achieved.

SPARTAN NINE WINS THIRD VICTORY OF SEASON WITH BADGER PITCHING

Racking up its third victory of the season, the Spartan baseball team Monday night defeated San Francisco State, 11-4, at San Francisco.

Led by pitcher Milo Badger, who held the Gaters to four runs and helped win his own game by smashing out two timely doubles, the Spartans completely outclassed their arch rivals from the bay city.

FIRST BLOOD

The Gaters drew first blood and got a run in the first inning, but the Spartans came back in their half of the second and tied it up at one-all. From that time on it was all Sparta as they made two runs in the third, one each in the fourth and fifth, two in the seventh and four in the eighth frame.

San Francisco rallied again in the sixth, eighth, and ninth innings; however, two of their runs were unearned.

FIELDING

George Smith and Bob Huck made two nice running catches for the Spartans during the game. Smith's was on a foul back of third base, which was retrieved nicely by the third sacker. Huck made a difficult catch on a ball that was hit high over second base, making the stop after a long chase that

A well-executed double play was made by the Spartans when a ground ball was picked up by Jack Marcipan, State's shortstop, who touched second and then relayed it to Wes Nunes who was playing at first base. It was the only double play of the afternoon, and it was well maneuvered.

WIN COLUMN

The Spartans now have to their credit wins over San Jose High school, Lincoln High school, and San Francisco State. They have lost only one tilt — a return game with the Bulldogs of S. J. High. A play-off game with the Bulldogs is very probable.

The first part of next quarter we want to see four or five students get together and give the pros a going over.

BASKETBALL

Oregon University won the Northern division basketball championship last week when they defeated the Washington State Cougars 39-37 in the third game of the play-off series.

The Ducks won the first and third games to take the title; they will appear in the Western regional N.C.A.A. tourney in Kansas City next week.

GUNDAR HAEGG

That much publicized Gundar Haegg, Swedish track ace, with his romantic and athletic difficulties, will run again this weekend. Haegg, who set 10 world records in 100 days three years ago, has been losing races right and left the past few weeks.

Jim Rafferty (good Irish name) has beaten him a couple of times, running a 4:19 mile in the Bankers' Relay last weekend.

Haegg keeps reporting, however, that he "is in better shape than he was the last race"!!!

SWIMMERS NEEDED ON SPARTAN TEAM

Coach Cecil Dombalian is holding on dearly to the few men left on his swimming team. It is the hope of Dombalian that next quarter will bring some new prospects.

It will be remembered that at the start of the season Sparta possessed a strong swimming team and a lot was expected of it. However, as the opening meet drew near, more and more Spartans left for the service until now Dombalian has about five men available for his squad. They include Bob Wallace, Tom Wyman, Bob Smith, Walt Chang, and Joe Correll.

Soph Hop Scheduled For May 5 To Have Hillbilly Theme

Sophomore class members will be in a "moonshine mood" next quarter, and not from "corn," either. The annual Sophomore Hop, Mountain Moonshine, featuring a hill-billy theme, will be held May 5 at the Scottish Rite Temple.

Music for dancing will be provided by the orchestra that played at the Inter-Society dance. "Moonshine" in the form of punch will be dispensed from a "still."

Phil McDonald and Dick Lair are responsible for decorations; June Robertson is making the bids, and Nancy Lynn is handling the entertainment.

George Milias is making arrangements for a frosh-soph get-together to be held May 18 at Roosevelt Junior High school.

On April 20 the traditional battle between the frosh and the sophomores, the Frosh - Soph mixer, will take place.

NOTICE

Will Eugene Henkel and Ralph Bucher please stop in at the Spartan Shop immediately. This concerns your bills for the quarter.

State Board of Education to say whether or not we shall train for advanced credentials.

That bill has a fairly good chance to become law. Really there is no reason under the blue sky why these great state colleges should not be training teachers for all of the public schools. Many private colleges, all of them small, most of them not nearly so well equipped as we are, have been granting the general secondary for many years. It verges on the ridiculous that students in the public colleges have to go somewhere else for their final training.

I think it should be understood that we are not ambitious to go in for research. That is definitely the field of the university. We should not attempt to train professional people in law, engineering, medicine, but we do think we should be authorized to train teachers for any of the public schools of California.
